welfare and growth.

- Human embodiment is meant to gain the treasure of values. Preserve the body with nourishing food, exercise and rest, employing it more in the service of others than for your own needs.
- The noble employ their wealth to serve others.
- Your family does not consist of relations of blood and matrimony alone. Embrace the whole society in your heart – “The whole of earth constitutes our family” is the adage.
- Knowledge is the Supreme Wealth and Strength. Unbridled prosperity and ostentation are debilitating to the mind and intelligence.
- Do not use Nature’s resources injudiciously. Guard against their undue depletion. Do not pollute earth, water, and air. Preserve and bequeath the treasure to succeeding generations.
- Earth’s greenery is vital to life. Preserve forests, gardens and fields. Remember: “One tree is equivalent to ten children.”
- “Mother and Motherland are greater than even heaven.” So do not entertain or allow any thought, word, or deed harmful to the Nation.
